Children's literature in the country through bodies like National Book Trust, India (NBT). Sahitya Akadcmi, Publications Division, etc. A number of public and private publishers arc also making valuable contribution to this cause.

NBT, a premier organization set up by the Government, is operating children specific schemes like Nehru Bal Pustakalaya (NBT) and National Centre for Children's Literature (NCCL). ThcNBP scries of publications of NBT aims at creating a treasure house of enjoyable and informative literature, which children can read at their own initiative. It promotes national integration by providing common reading material on a wide range of subjects in their mother tongue to children all over India. The NCCL promotes publication of childrens's literature. To facilitate awareness about children's literature, NCCL provides information to guardians, teachers, educationists and planners. In the reference library of the Centre, there are about ten thousands books in 14 Indian languages and 20 foreign languages. NCCL has started raiders Clubs' movement to make reading interesting and to make books available for all especially children. The Centre has established about 21,000 readers' Clubs in all the States of the country so far. Children are major beneficiaries of these Clubs.

District Primary Education Programme (DPEP) supports school libraries. Mobile book van tours have been conducted in West Bengal, Maharashtra, Andhra Pradesh in collaboration with NBT. NBT on its own also operates Mobile Exhibition-cum-Sales Vans to make books available to different areas in the country in the States of Delhi, Orissa, Gujarat, Kerala, Uttar Pradesh, Bihar and Assam.
